MINERS' UNION FOR ROOSEVELT

U. M. W. Indorses President for Re-election and Pledges Funds for Campaign

URGE A. F. L. DO LIKEWISE

Lewis Says United Labor Stand Would Assure Victory for Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The United Mine Workers formally indorse President Roosevelt today for re-election and decided to contribute to the Democratic campaign fund.

It might be well for the American Federation of Labor to take cognizance of what this convention has done, said John L. Lewis, the miners' president, when the 1700 delegates had unanimously adopted the Roosevelt resolution.

Wants A. F. L. To Do Same

If the A. F. L. would follow suit as it should then for all practical purposes the result of the next election no longer would be in doubt.

The federation traditionally takes no part in presidential elections.

We are not indorsing the Democratic party as such, Lewis added.

We are rising to meet a crisis in the economic and political life of the nation.

The union is allying itself with a great statesman to protect the common people.

Wants New York

The interests in downtown New York are boasting that they can raise enough money to elect a Chinaman to the White House.

It is time for the United Mine Workers and all the common people to show these interests that there isn't enough money in this country to buy the presidency.

Lewis for many years was a Republican.

The mine union action contributed to the mounting political tension in the capital. Whether Republicans would take any notice of it was awaited.

Bender Drops Bomb

A prime topic in their ranks was an assertion at Cleveland by George H. Bender, president of the Ohio League of Republican Clubs that G. O. P. friends there of Sen. Borah were losing faith in him as a prospect for presidential nomination.

The senator declined to take notice of the statement. There were indications however that he might soon show his hand would be entered in the Ohio primaries.

14 OHIOANS TRAPPED IN RAIL TUNNEL SLIDE

Were Working on Muskingum Project; Authorities Uncertain if They're Alive.

By The Associated Press

CAMBRIDGE, O., Feb. 1.—A terrific explosion trapped 14 men to-day in a railroad tunnel project near Kimbolen 14 miles north of Zanesville.

First reports reaching here did not indicate whether the men were dead or alive.

The tunnel was being put through to relocate the Pennsylvania railroad right-of-way in the Muskingum watershed conservancy district.

Ambulances and physicians were rushed to the scene from Cambridge and Newcomertown.

Menager reports indicated that the blast caused a rock slide, blocking the entrance to the tunnel, which was being constructed by the Wilson Construction Co. of Zanesville.

There were no telephones in the vicinity of this sparsely populated district in the eastern Ohio hills and information concerning the blast was lacking.

ETHIOPIANS CLAIM FOE WIPED OUT IN MAJOR TILT

Italian General's Army Reported "Annihilated" by Defending Forces

BADOGGIO SAYS ALL QUIET

Blacks Tell of Capturing Hundreds of Prisoners, Guns and Ammunition

By The Associated Press

Associated Press Foreign Staff

The annihilation of the Italian army under Gen. D'Ambrasi which has been operating in northeastern Ethiopia was claimed by Ethiopian sources in a Reuters news agency dispatch from Dessale Ethiopia today.

The alleged battle was not confirmed in Italian sources the official daily communiqué from Rome saying only Marshal Pietro Badoglio telegraphed that on the Somali and Eritrean fronts there is nothing new.

Division Defeated

The Ethiopian claim however was that the famous 28th of October division of the Fascists was included in the casualties of what was described as the greatest battle of the war on the northern front.

This report said the Ethiopians captured hundreds of prisoners and great numbers of machine guns, rifles and ammunition.

From various sources came the report that Ras Desta Deme had been deposed as commander of Emperor Haile Selassie's army in southern Ethiopia being succeeded by Dejazmach (general) Balcha, a veteran warrior of Eritrean province.

Officially however this report was denied in Addis Ababa.

In Rome Premier Mussolini called the Fascist grand council together as rumors were rampant that the peril of European war was being increasingly feared as the result of the Ethiopian hostilities.

Wanna Of European War

Mussolini's new paper, Popolo d'Italia, charged that if hostilities were extended and a political victory was won by the pressure of imperialism and the bloodthirsty Europe would enter the world's most terrible unjust war.

In Paris the new government under Premier Albert Sarraut rested secure on the basis of an overwhelming vote of confidence by the chamber of deputies.

The Sarraut policies approved included the search for an Italian-Ethiopian settlement within the League of Nations.

GIRL REPORTER FOILS COAST BANK HOLDUP

Summons Police and Fray Results in Two Cudd Bandits and One Behind Bars.

By The Associated Press

EL MONTE, Calif., Feb. 1.—Two bank robbers were dead and a third man in custody today because of an alert girl reporter and a squad of dead shot police officers who answered her alarm.

It was a holdup, an employee of the Southern County bank screamed over the telephone to the reporter, Tillie Erwin, who had called to make a routine news check.

Into the bank with drawn guns rushed police and sheriff's force marksmen called from a nearby pistol range. When the firing stopped E. C. Yates and Clarence Smith lay dead. Two officers were wounded and Frank Smith brother of the dead man was under arrest.

The officers said they surprised Frank Smith and Yates as they acceded up $3,000 from the bank vault but Clarence Smith who had been waiting outside burst through the door with a sawed off shot gun.

Policeman Joseph Fritch with three fingers torn away by shot gun slugs whirled and fired Smith toppled, over dead. Yates was killed by the blast from the shot gun and another officer, Constable R. E. Fell, was superficially wounded.

Im the luckiest man in the world to be alive said Fritch as the gun smoke cleared.

I guess my wife and three kids are glad too.

LIBERTY LEAGUE SPREAD HINTED

Deal Foes Expand Causes Political Situation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Liberty League, a new political organization, is spreading rapidly in the South and West, according to reports from various sources.

The league is headed by a group of prominent conservatives who are opposed to the New Deal policies of President Roosevelt. They claim that the league is necessary to protect the principles of American government and to prevent the kind of socialism that they believe is being introduced by the federal government.

The league's first meeting was held in New York City last week, and it was reported that a large number of delegates from various states attended. The delegates are expected to meet again in the near future to discuss the league's program and to elect officers.

The league's platform includes opposition to the New Deal, support for the principles of American government, and a call for a return to the principles of the Constitution. The league is expected to be a major force in the political life of the country in the years ahead.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

False Moustache

GEORGE being conveniently near went on Frankie 'shouts I am a doctor. Stand back everybody—that is, if there's anybody to stand back. We must take her into that house. I must be able to make a thorough examination.'

I am carried to the best spare room the Basington Frenches either sympathetic or bitterly resentful, but in any case George will overbear them.

George makes his examination and emerges with his verdict. Happily it is not so serious as he thought. No bones broken but danger of concussion. I must on no account be moved for two or three days. After that I shall be able to return to London.

And then George departs and it's up to me to ingratiate myself with the household.

'And where do I come in?' 'You don't.'

'But look here—'

'My dear child do remember that Basington French knows you. He doesn't know me from Adam and I'm in a frightfully strong position because I've got a title. You see how useful that is. I'm not just a stray young woman gaining admission to the house for my father's purposes. I am an Earls daughter and therefore highly respectable. And George is a real doctor and everything is quite above suspicion.'

'Oh I suppose it's all right,' said Bobby unhappily.

'It's a remarkably well planned scheme. I think,' said Frankie with pride.

'And I don't do anything at all,' said Bobby. 'He said I felt injured—much like a dog who has been unexpectedly deprived of a bone. This he felt was his own particular crime and now he was being ousted.'

'Of course you do darling. You grow a moustache.'

'Oh I grow a moustache do I? Yes, if you long will it take? Two or three weeks I expect. Heavens I'd no idea it was such a slow process. Can't you speed it up?'

'No. Why can't I wear a false one?'

'They always look so false and they twist or come off or smelt of spirit gum. Wait a minute though—I believe there is a kind you can get stuck on hair by hair so to speak that absolutely defies detection. I expect a theatrical wig maker would do it for you.'

'He'd probably think I was trying to come from France. It doesn't matter what he thinks.'

'Once I've got the moustache what do I do?'

'Put on a chauffeur's uniform and drive the Bentley down to Slaverley.'

'Oh I see,' Bobby brightened. 'You see my love, this is it. Frankie. Nobody looks at a chauffeur in the way they look at a person. In any case Basington French only saw you for a minute or two and he must have been too rattled wondering if he could change the photographs in time to look at you much. You were just a young girl going to him.'

'It isn't like the Caymans, who sat opposite you and talked to you and who were deliberately trying to sum you up. I'd bet anything that seeing you in chauffeur's uniform Basington French wouldn't recognize you even without the moustache. He might just possibly think that your face reminded him of'

NURSE IS SET FREE IN "MERCY KILLING"

Grand Jury Accuses Police of "Bungling" Case; Hold Patient Took Own Life

By The Associated Press

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 1.—A grand jury here yesterday condemned police for "bungling" and refused to charge a dark-eyed young nurse with the murder of her patient.

Police Inspector Leo Vassano of Woonsocket announced a month ago that the nurse, Marie Selwyn, 26, told him she administered a lethal agent to Mrs. L. Valmore Normandin, 47, to end her suffering.

The grand jury said that in their opinion, the patient Mrs. Normandin, wife of a local auditor for the state alcoholic beverage commission, died Dec. 11 of poison which she administered to herself.

Miss Selwyn, freed immediately, sobbed as she was told of the jury's action.

I can forgive but I can never forget the said police, the jury said.

Apparently proceeding on a premise that there was no question about Miss Selwyn's guilt, they did not bother to find out whether or not she was an extremely other than that used to build up their own case.

Married Comrades

Made Puzles Over Reason for Maja's Dispute

I FOUND no answer to my troublesome query concerning the secret understanding between Junior and Rodrick until we had gone for many miles along the road to the White Mountain peaks. Indeed after the first part of the journey during which I was conscious of it as I might be of a buzzing mosquito I pushed it resolutely aside and gave myself up to the panorama of beauty spread out before me and upon either side.

There was no more impressive scenery than that afforded by the succession of White Mountain peaks, but for sheer loveliness and beauty so constant that it becomes almost monotonous in its perfection I do not believe there is any series of views to rival it.

Unfortunately there was something jarring in that part of the view which lay nearest the road way and after an hour it provoked a realistic comment even from Katherine usually the acme of impracticability.

'If you could only keep your eyes fixed constantly upon this I like, she said this would be a little bit of heaven itself. But you do have to look down occasionally and then behold!'

There was in her voice a disgust which I shared for I meant only too aware of what she meant I had been annoyed for miles by a seemingly never-ending procession of signs stuck along the roadside advertising everything from motor cars to shaving creams.

I know I said why do they permit those excesses to spoil all this?'

I saw your spirit and she said you can kiss it but I don't agree with you entirely. Those signs can't spoil the view couldn't you unless they were so high they hid the peaks?'

That isn't the fault of the advertisers, I said, it's the fault of the highway engineers who put them there.

You won't get any contradiction from me at that point she retorted. But I can understand their psychology. You think with newspaper magnates, radio programs, railroad train and street car space they could do without littering these beautiful ways with their masterpieces. I suppose they consider them such or of like value.

I think I would enjoy some of them. I said if they relieved the tedium of a highway or street car journey when there is nothing to be seen and I wouldn't object to them so much in unlovely suburban and flat uninteresting stretches of country. But up here they are a blight. That one over there for instance. If there is another one of those I think I shall shoot it dead in fiery.

RAMPANT INFLATION FEARED BY C. OF C.

Increased Spending and Heavy Deficits Cause of Chamber's Alarm

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States predicted today that a continuation of present administration fiscal policies may result in "uncontrolled inflation."

The committee's views were presented to and released by the chamber's director, now in session. They comprised one of several reports by various committees on current economic problems.

'Circumstances indicate not an approach to a balanced budget but an approach to greater disorder in financing,' said the report written by Fred H. Clauser, Hartford, Wis., manufacturer.

Present types of financing through excessive borrowing are clearly inflationary, Clauser said, adding that while "this method of inflation differs from the issuing of paper currency, the ultimate result of its continuation may not differ. It is continued."

'At the conclusion of the next fiscal year there will have been, according to present outlook, seven consecutive years of heavy budgetary deficits.'

'It must not be overlooked that every nation which has permitted deficits in any way comparable for such periods of time has found the greatest difficulty if not the impossibility of escaping the devastating consequences of uncontrolled inflation.'

Essentially a weighted pendulum that swings to and forth as it approaches its limit, it is pointed out, the device to control the amount of money in circulation has been invented by a few men.

MINNESOTA JOINS OHIO IN COURT TILT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Minnesota has joined Ohio today in asking the supreme court to uphold constitutionality of the Huxley Cooper act, which prohibits a state or federal government from making goods moving in interstate commerce.

Harry J. Peterson, Minnesota attorney general, acting as a friend of the court, presented a brief preliminary to arguments the next week on an appeal of the Huxley Cooper act, which was passed in Cleveland, O., where it is manufactured at the Wapakoneta prison in violation of a violation of Ohio law prohibiting sale of prison made goods.
